

TEACHING TO STRENGTHS: A BLENDED LEARNING SYMPOSIUM

Supporting Students Living with Trauma, Violence, and Chronic Stress

with Debbie Zacarian, Lourdes Alvarez-Ortiz, and Judie Haynes

Half the students in U.S. schools are experiencing or have experienced trauma, violence, or chronic stress. Using real-world examples as well as research-based principles, this symposium will show how to:

- Identify inherent assets that students bring to the classroom
- Connect to students' experiences through the use of predictable routines and structured learning experiences

This blended-learning symposium will encourage educators to embrace teaching and school-wide practices that support and enhance the academic and socio-emotional development of students living with trauma, violence and chronic stress. In this unique environment, participants will have the chance to interact with the authors directly via a live stream, while processing their learning in small groups with professional facilitators at several locations across our state.
